

Dimple Well Infant School and Nursery

History Policy 2020

Aims:

At Dimple Well Infant and Nursery School we aim to provide high quality history lessons which will inspire a curiosity and fascination in the children to want to know more about Britain's past and to think as historians.

At Dimple Well Infant and Nursery School the aims of our history teaching are:

- To foster an interest in knowing more about the lives of some significant individuals from the past.
- To know about some significant events in British History and to appreciate how things have changed over time.
- To know and discuss some changes within their living memory.
- To appreciate how life in Britain has changed for people over time.
- To develop skills of enquiry, analysis, evaluation and argument.
- To develop an interest in the past, arousing curiosity and motivation to learn.
- To develop their historical skills, concepts, knowledge and attitudes.
- To develop and use historical vocabulary.

Teaching and Learning Style:

Through our history teaching we aim to encourage the pupils to think as historians, asking and answering questions about people or events of the past. We recognise the value and importance of stories, often using this as a way of stimulating the children's imaginations and bringing the past to life. The children are given the opportunity to examine artefacts and use objects from the past in their role play and learning across school. We guide the pupils in understanding that historical events can be interpreted in different ways and encourage them to ask searching questions in order to draw their own conclusions.

History Curriculum Planning:

Key Stage 1:

In Key Stage 1 the year group staff plans in accordance with the National Curriculum guidance for their age group. Our curriculum planning is in 3 phases, (long term, medium term and short term) Provision for history activities are planned as part of the overall topic planning completed by each year group on a termly basis. We plan topics in History which build upon prior learning. We offer them increasing challenge as they move up through the school.

Early Years Foundation Stage:

History is taught as an integral part of the topic work covered during the year. In the Nursery and Reception classes History is planned in line with the Early Years Foundation Stage document and the objectives set out by The Early Learning Goals, within Understanding of the World.

Equal Opportunities and Inclusion

All pupils, irrespective of ethnicity, religion, gender or ability are given equal access to the History Curriculum. Able, gifted and talented pupils will be supported through the subject, developing analysis, thinking skills and evaluation techniques.

Teaching History to Children with SEN

At Dimple Well Infant and Nursery School we adapt our history activities and teaching to enable children of all abilities to access them. We aim to provide a broad and balanced education to all children.

Assessment

Teachers assess children's work in history by making assessments as they observe them working during lessons and through the independent work they produce. They record the progress the children are making by assessing them against the objectives on the year group assessment grids produced by staff in line with the National Curriculum. This allows the teachers to make half termly and termly assessments of attainment and progress for each child.

Resources

There are a number of resources in school to enable the teaching of History across all year groups including artefacts and topic books in the school library. We also welcome visitors who bring artefacts and talk to the children about specific topics. Pupils are also taken on trips to support the History curriculum. Staff are encouraged to select their own resources for specific topics and let the coordinator know if more resources are needed to support their teaching.

Health and Safety

Pupils will be taught to handle artefacts with care and respect. A risk assessment is taken before all offsite visits. Pupils are closely supervised when taking part in field work.

Monitoring and Review

The History subject leader is responsible for monitoring the standard of the children's work and the quality of teaching in history. The subject leader supports colleagues in the teaching of history wherever needed and informs the school about current developments in the subject.
